Cutting by age

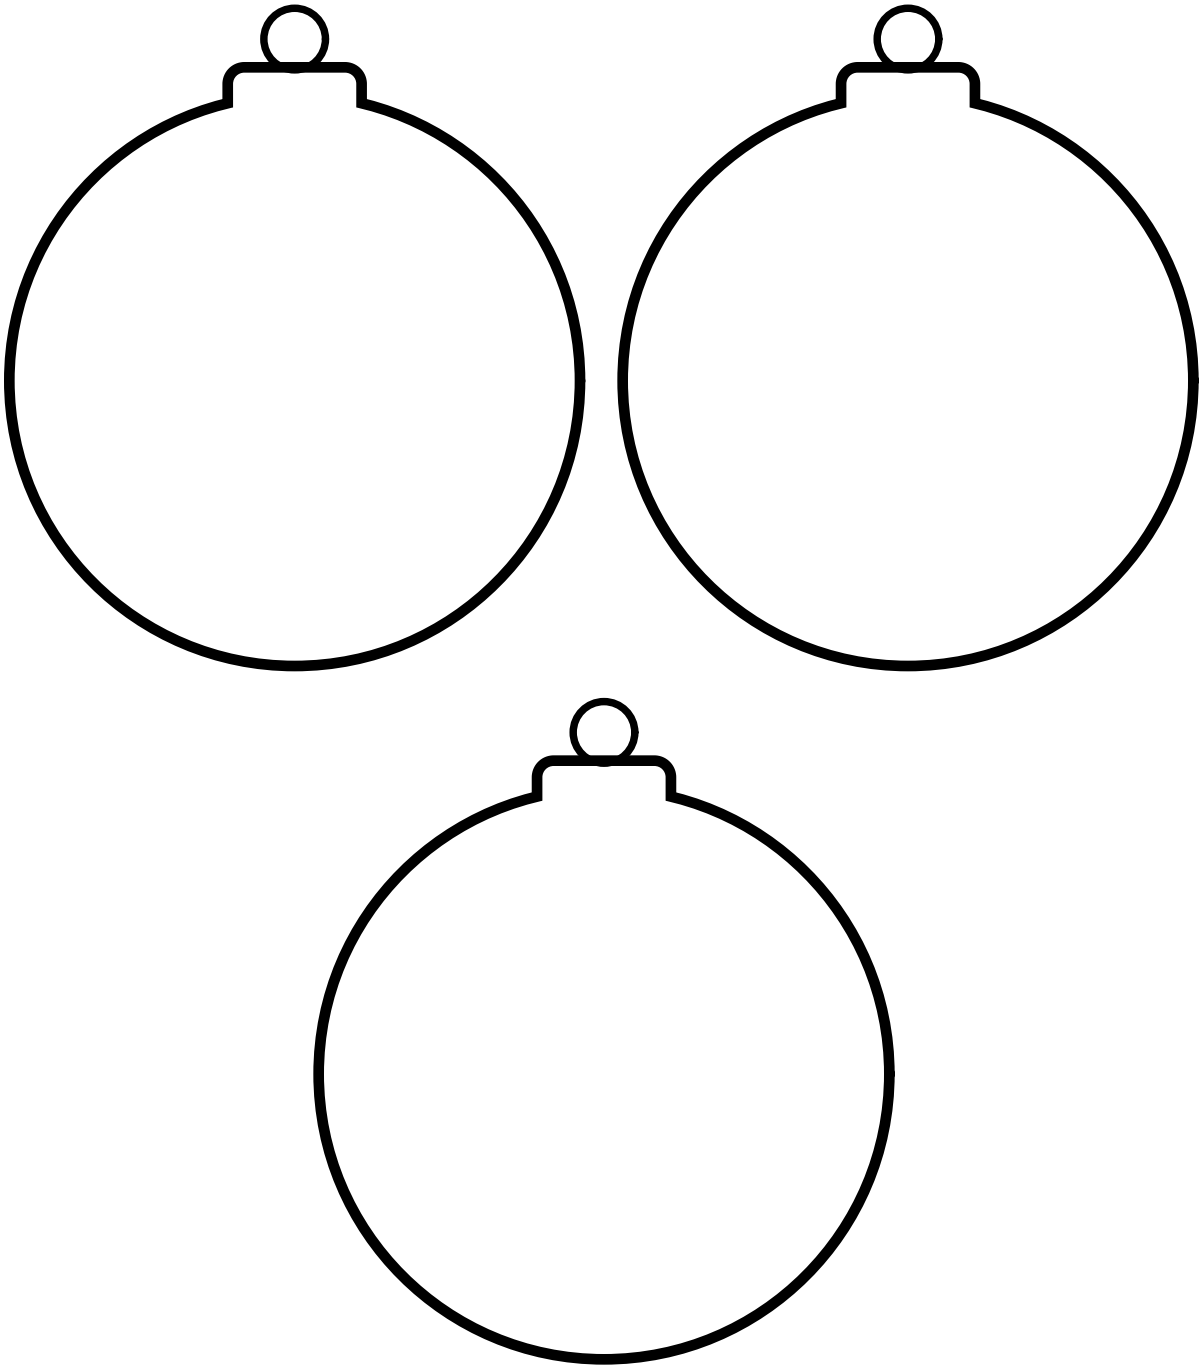

- Under 3: a grown-up cuts out the shape; the toddler paints, sticks and presses.
- Ages 3-4: child-safe scissors on the big shapes, with a grown-up close by.
- Print on cardstock if the craft will hang on the tree or a window.

For toddlers who still mouth things

- Skip pom-poms, sequins, googly eyes and loose glitter: they are choking hazards.
- Use big stickers, washable paint, dot markers and torn paper instead.
